Allies Break Off Negotiations in Berlin Crisis

Red Blockade Called World Peace Threat; Case Sent to U. N.

PARIS, Monday, Sept. 27 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France broke off negotiations with Russia last night over the blockade of Berlin and referred the issue to the United Nations as a threat to peace.

Stalin Order To End Ban Disregarded

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (Monday) (AP)—The State department revealed officially tonight that Premier Stalin fully agreed little more than a month ago to lift the Soviet blockade of Berlin but that his military commander in the German capital refused to honor the agreement.

SECRETARY OF STATE George C. Marshall, of the United States, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman met twice at the French foreign ministry and drafted a 14-point message to the Kremlin. By this action, they called off direct negotiations begun with the Russians the past July under article 33 of the U. N. charter.

A note to Trygve Lie, secretary general of the U. N., formally submitting the Berlin crisis to the Security Council is to be written and sent today. The western powers accused Russia of using force and duress to seize complete control of Berlin which lies deep in the Russian occupation zone and to incorporate the city into the Soviet state.

Moreover, the department disclosed in a 24,000 word "white paper," the Soviet government itself backed up Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky in his actions. This was the turning point in the now-collapsed Moscow negotiations for an end to the Berlin crisis.

THE MAJOR ISSUE in the breakdown was an effort by Sokolovsky to impose restrictions on transport to Berlin. Furthermore, the record states, he also sought to eliminate "any measure of quadripartite control over the German bank of issue for the Soviet zone with respect to Berlin."

Western authorities said here tonight that they were without a factual explanation of the cause of the Russian reversal, but (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Truman Says Peace More Important Than Becoming President

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 26 (AP)—President Truman said tonight world peace is "more important than whether I'm president of the United States."

He spoke at a dinner of Texas Democrats at which a former House Speaker, Sam Rayburn, counseled against a change in American leadership. Rayburn said that would make other nations think "we have weakened in our foreign policy."

For the second time today, Mr. Truman told a Texas audience: "I always wish for only one thing, and that's peace in the world."

Strange, safety director for Pottstown schools; and Ralph P. Holloway, secretary of the school district.

PEACE PRAYERS URGED BY DEWEY

New York Governor Cites 'Grave Crisis' Over Berlin; Calls for United Efforts

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26 (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey said today "events have moved toward a grave crisis in Berlin."

The Republican presidential nominee called upon "our own people and men and women of every land who share our aims to unite our prayers for peace."

THE NEW YORK GOVERNOR set forth his plea in a statement prepared before the Paris announcement early today that the United States, Britain and France have referred the dispute over the blockade of Berlin to the United Nations Security Council.

THE STATEMENT, written yesterday, made no mention of the Paris decision. But Dewey, ready to push his campaign into the northwest, has been kept fully informed regarding the Paris conference of the western foreign ministers and knew about the development before it was announced.

AN AIDE OF the governor said he was informed by John Foster Dulles, his advisor on foreign affairs and a U. S. delegate to the United Nations general assembly meeting in Paris. Dulles also has been sitting in with Secretary of State Marshall at the sessions of the Berlin situation.

SPECIAL COMMUNICATIONS arrangements kept Dewey in close touch with Dulles while the governor's campaign train tours the country. The Dewey aide said the governor learned yesterday about the decision to refer the Berlin dispute to the Security Council. He added that the GOP candidate was "keeping" (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Driver Training Course In School Starts Today

A class of 23 Pottstown Senior High school students will receive their first instruction in driving beginning today, as the school's newest course gets under way.

The course was approved the past Summer by the school board, and the instructor, Charles I. Hamilton, was assigned to the subject at the board's Sept. 13 meeting. Pottstown becomes the second school in the area to have a driver-training program. North Coventry High school began a similar course the past year.

Placing driver instruction in the school system has been supported editorially by The Mercury. Hamilton's class will study driving from eight to ten weeks, spending their time both behind the wheel and in the classroom, where they will study the vehicle code and the principles of automotive construction.

THE GROUP WILL spend 15 minutes a day behind the wheel three to five times weekly, and 30 minutes, observing, as the instructor takes three students out for practical road work daily. He will draw upon the boys' and girls' study hall time to avoid conflict with their other studies. Classroom work will be from 3:05 to 4 p. m., after regular school hours.

Approximately six to eight hours behind-the-wheel instruction will be required before the boys and girls can be recommended for their driver's test. EARL R. STRANGE, director of safety in Pottstown schools, said the State police will cooperate with the school and that the youngsters will take the examination on North Hanover street for their State license in the same dual-control car in which they received their instruction.

Three to four groups of students will take the course yearly, according to present plans. "We hope to qualify 80 to 90 youngsters a year," Strange asserted.

The 1948 model car in which instruction will be given was presented to the schools by the Keiser Chevrolet company, through the Pottstown Automobile club. Strange himself is a qualified driver-training instructor, although his other duties prevented him from taking over the course. He took a course offered by the Philadelphia Board of Education in conjunction with the American Automobile association, the past March, given by a professor from Pennsylvania State college.

5000 WITNESS AIR PROGRAM AT LOCAL FIELD

'Chute Jump Climaxes Afternoon Show Held Under Ideal Conditions

By HARRY TOLAND (Mercury Staff Writer)

In perfect plane-spotter weather yesterday afternoon, 5000 spectators turned out at Municipal airport, Stowe, to watch the airport's first air show. Sponsored by the Pilot club of Pottstown, the free three and a half hour show was termed "a bigger success than we even hoped for" by Herbert N. Maier, club president.

The brilliant, 70-degree weather was excellent for flying after 2 o'clock when the "choppy" breeze died down. But many contestants didn't mind even that. "It makes it more interesting," said some.

Spectators, who lined the airport's main runway three and four deep for hundreds of yards, were treated to a neck-twisting variety of stunt flying, contests, demonstrations and free rides.

THE CLIMAX AND end of the formal program was a parachute jump. Wrenching a synchronized gag from thousands of throats, William DuBois, paratrooper veteran from Linfield, fell freely for about 2000 feet, turning slowly end over end, before he pulled the rip-cord.

The stunt began with the plane at about 8000 feet altitude. With Werner Betten, instructor at the field, at the controls, DuBois crawled onto a wing before making his jump.

Although he had most spectators figuring the jig was up and the ambulance driver reaching for the starting mechanism, there could have been little doubt in DuBois's mind, he is a professional parachute packer. He landed unscathed in a field east of the airport.

IT WAS THE PEAK of a packed, fast-moving afternoon. The program began with the main contest, the spot landing competition. It was won by John Tyson, a club member, piloting a light plane, capable of as many altitude changes as a kangaroo. He won the grand prize, a year's membership in the Airplane Owners and Pilots association, donated by the local branch, and first prize in the contest—50 percent of the 50 cent entrance fees chipped in by 11 contestants.

Harry Schneider, second place winner, got the remaining 40 percent. Competitors in the event had to make a three-point landing between two lines about 75 feet apart. The nearest to the first line won. Tyson was about ten feet away from the first line.

THE CONTEST was interrupted by the unscheduled appearance of two planes, not entered in the contest, both of which accidentally came down exactly on the first line. AFTER A DEMONSTRATION of an aircraft company plane by R. Harding Brethaupt, of Reading, former ATC pilot, the balloon-breaking contest got underway. The winner was the youngest pilot on the field, Richard Keim, 18, a member of Pilot club. The rules of the event called for the pilot to gain an altitude of 1000 feet, release a balloon filled with air and then try to break it with the propeller. Time limit was two minutes.

Gave 'Friends' Ride, Then Robbed Homes; Police Nab Suspects

With the arrest of two men and a woman over the week-end Pottstown police broke up a group suspected of a series of burglaries in Hilldale during recent weeks.

Edward Whitfield, 29, Apartment 32-A, Road A, Hilldale, and Rudolph Beasley, 23, of 244 Minter street, were turned over to State police of the Collegeville sub-station late Saturday night after they were arrested by Patrolmen Michael Shanta and Paul Galloway.

Then, last night, Galloway picked up Lillian Waters, 26, whose address was given only as Lincoln avenue. She was held in a borough hall cell on suspicion of burglary, to await State police investigation today.

Miss Waters also called herself "Sis Beasley," police declared. According to Pottstown police, a group of men and women has been taking Hilldale residents to Reading on ostensibly friendly automobile rides.

Arriving there, they abandoned their "friends" and returned to Hilldale to burglarize their homes.

AT 9:45 O'CLOCK Saturday night, less than an hour after they were told to watch for an automobile driven by two of the suspected burglars, Shanta and Galloway spotted it at its home on Keim street from High street. They chased the car and stopped it at South street and Center avenue.

One of the men flashed a German Luger pistol at the policemen who promptly drew their own weapons and ordered Beasley and Whitfield out of the car.

When the policemen armed, the men dropped their pistol to the road and got out of the car with their hands in the air. They were searched, taken to borough hall and then turned over to State police, who had requested the co-operation of borough police in ending the Hilldale burglaries.

THE PISTOL brandished by the men was believed to have been stolen in the most recent burglary, the past Friday night. Two women were in the car with Beasley and Whitfield, but they were released after questioning. Last night, at 6:25 p. m., Galloway arrested Miss Waters at Beech and Grant streets. She will be questioned by State police today. The arrest expected in borough hall this morning, and also expected to make at least two more arrests, of out-of-town men charged with participation in the burglaries.

Motorist Is Jailed For Lack of Bail

Walter Schweizer, 29, of Reading, was committed to the county jail in Norristown early yesterday morning in default of $500 bail, after he was charged with driving while drunk. The Reading man was arrested by Sgt. Daniel J. Linton and Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy on West High street at 3:20 o'clock Saturday morning. They said he passed the police car and almost hit the rear of another eastbound car before he applied his brakes. Schweizer spun completely around on the highway, they said, before his car halted. He was taken to the office of police physician Dr. Harry K. Marcy Jr., where he was pronounced intoxicated. He was locked up in a borough hall cell until Saturday afternoon when he had a hearing before Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward.

Relics May Date to 400 A. D., Is State Archeologist's Opinion

Instead of being five centuries old, as a scientist said last week, the Indian stones found by Michael J. Gresco, Pottstown RD 1, may date back to 400 A. D., a State archeologist "called in on the case" told the Gresco's Saturday. John Witthoft, Harrisburg, arrived at the Frick's Locks farm with a letter from Dr. J. A. Mason, the University of Pennsylvania museum director whose examination led him to set the five-centuries-old estimate. The State archeologist examined the several hundred stones and the field where they were found for four hours before returning to Harrisburg. He backed Dr. Mason's assertion that the flint-like spearheads were of yellow jasper mined in Vera Cruz or Macungie, Lehigh county, but disagreed on their age. Witthoft said they probably were made between 1100 and 1500 years ago, and are real museum pieces. He praised Dr. Mason's scientific reputation, but explained that Mason specialized in Western Indians, while his forte was Eastern Indians. He said he wanted to do further research and would contact them again soon.

Run Down by Motorcycle, Pedestrian's Leg Broken

John Masleh, 24, of 1012 Queen street, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg above the ankle late Saturday night on Penn street, at Buttonwood alley, when he was run down by a motorcycle. The driver, 23-year-old Walter Roadcap Jr., of Pottstown RD 2, was released under $500 bond pending a hearing at 7 o'clock tonight on a charge of drunken driving. Young Masleh also will be charged with driving without his glasses. His driver's license is restricted to bespectacled operation. Masleh and his wife were returning from a motion picture house, walking north on Penn street, when he was struck down. At the same time, Roadcap was thrown from his motorcycle. He was treated for abrasions of the left side of the head, face and of the left knee at Pottstown hospital, and discharged after signing his own release. Hospital officials had wanted to admit him overnight. Both men were taken to the hospital in an ambulance of the Good Will Fire company.

A WITNESS, Francis Snyder, of Perkiomenville, told police that he saw Roadcap roar up Penn street after stopping at the High street intersection to talk with two girls. Snyder heard a crash, he said, and saw Masleh lying on the pavement. Motor Patrolman Robert Houser (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Night Temperature Hits Near Record for Date

If you thought Pottstown's nights were a little chilly over the week-end, you were right. The mark of 42 degrees set early yesterday morning was only two degrees above the 50-year record for the date. Although the thermometer reading was dipping toward the 40s again this morning, the weatherman promised that today and tomorrow, Pottstown would have the same near-perfect Autumn days that were here Saturday and Sunday, only without so much chill. Today, he said, it will be fair and warmer. Tomorrow, mild with only a few clouds to mar a pretty Fall picture.

Two Violators 'Sentenced' In Bike Court Session

The weekly junior bicycle court was held Saturday in borough hall, with Pottstown police bringing in their habitual haul of offenders—two. D. S. T. or E. S. T.—It's Bottle Time On Schedule as Clocks Go Back

A loud, long wail was all Pottstown's babies had to say about the shift from Daylight Saving to Eastern Standard Time at 2 a. m. yesterday. Parents generally remembered to set their clocks back an hour Saturday night before going to bed, but the extra hour sleep just meant an hour of delay for baby's bottle. Infants are well-regulated mechanisms, parents informed The Mercury, and they set up howls of protest when bottle time didn't come around on schedule. Although all Reading Railroad company trains but one ran on the same E. S. T. schedule that they had been using under D. S. T., a few passengers became rattled, ticket agents reported. Several of them turned up at the station an hour off schedule, while many others telephoned the station to find out about arrivals and departures. Most Pottstown jewelers remembered to set back—their 11 hours ahead—the clocks in their windows, but at least one was forgetful. BEVIN TO STATE BRITISH POLICY IN U. N. TODAY

Secretary May Touch On Berlin Situation; Will Reply to Russia

PARIS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin is expected to make Britain's policy speech to the United Nations general assembly tomorrow when the 58-nation groups reconvene in the shadow of the Berlin crisis.

There was no announcement whether Bevin would touch on the Berlin situation, which has been referred to the Security Council by the western powers. If he does, his words may set the pattern of the western strategy.

It was assumed that Bevin would make some reply to the Russian demand for a one-third slash in the armed forces of the five great powers.

The assembly recessed for the weekend yesterday after hearing Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky charge the west with plotting an atomic war and demand arms slashes and scrapping of the atomic bomb.

Assembly President Herbert V. Evatt of Australia hopes to wind up general debate by Tuesday night.

This would enable the six main 58-nation committee to get started on the 69-item calendar on Wednesday. All committee decisions eventually must go back to the floor of the assembly for final approval.

Louisiana Okays Bill To Put Truman on Ballot

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 26 (AP)—The Louisiana legislature today voted to admit President Truman's name to the State general election ballot—without letting him be called officially a Democrat.

The State Senate unanimously passed, with only technical amendments, a bill revising the State general election law to allow the President to be nominated by petition.

Reds' Demand for Control Of Airlift Started in Berlin

BERLIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—Russia's demand for control of the British-American airlift popped up suddenly in the military governors' negotiations here on the Berlin crisis and not in Moscow reliable sources said today.

The demand prompted the western powers to toss the entire matter to the U. N. Security Council and ended all hopes of a four-power settlement on Berlin.

Injection of the air demand at the Berlin end of the talks was taken as an indication the Russians had no idea of any real compromise and were determined to seize all of Berlin by any methods available.

The military governors were handed the Berlin problem after western envoys in Moscow reached agreement in principle with the Kremlin over currency and trade problems.

Even on currency and trade, original proposals made by Prime Minister Stalin to the western envoys were enlarged when the discussions were brought to Berlin, the sources here said.

MARSHAL VASSILY D. Sokolovsky, the Soviet occupation chief, added the airlift demand in a sudden move during the Berlin negotiations, the informants said.

He made plain that by control of "commercial" air traffic the Russians meant all air travel or transport not carrying or supplying the western occupation forces directly.

This would mean that if the western powers agreed the Soviets could cut off all supplies to all the 2,000,000 western sector Germans and leave the city completely at the mercy of the Soviet occupation authorities.

Bunche Carries On in Palestine Despite Being 'Marked' for Death

HAIFA, Sept. 26 (AP)—An American Negro professor is calmly keeping the lid on the Palestine truce in spite of warnings from Jewish terrorists that he is the next man marked for death.

Dr. Ralph Johnson Bunche, acting United Nations mediator since Count Folke Bernadotte's assassination nine days ago, is hard to scare.

"It was the Count's policy not to request personal protection but to leave it to the responsibility of the Jews and Arabs to determine what protection was necessary," the former Howard university political science professor said today. "That's still our policy."

"LAST WEDNESDAY when I went to Jerusalem it seemed as if half of Haganah had turned out to guard me. I never felt so safe! But I hadn't asked it."

Officially, no threatening messages have been sent directly to Bunche in recent days, but he is aware of the enmity against him as the symbol of the United Nations. He said if any threats come "I'll throw them in the waste basket."

Bunche read with interest the inflammatory headline in the Stern gang newspaper the past week—"Bunche Was United States Intelligence Agent." He also recalls the Stern leaflet distributed in Jerusalem early in September saying "Bernadotte Must Go—Blessed Be the Hand that Does It."

But there is no atmosphere of dread around Bunche.

Final Tribute Paid To Count Bernadotte; Thousands Mourn

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 26 (AP)—To the beat of muffled drums and in the glare of flaming torches, Sweden paid a final tribute today to Count Folke Bernadotte, the assassinated Palestine mediator.

Last rites were held in Gustav Vasa church in the presence of the aged King Gustaf V, foreign diplomats and representatives of the United Nations.

After the church services, 40 boy scouts drew the coffin on an open catafalque wagon to the northern cemetery. Throngs of silent, mourning Swedes watched.

BEHIND, SEVEN walking Dragoons from the Count's old regiment who beat muffled drums came the four flags of Sweden, the United Nations, the Red Cross and the Boy Scouts.

The next of kin, including Bernadotte's American-born widow, Esther Manville, and members of Swedish and foreign royal families in big limousines headed thousands of marching Red Cross officers and nurses, Girl and Boy Scouts.

Burning torches in the hands of 400 Girl Scouts saluted the funeral procession at the entrance to the cemetery. They formed a double line up to the crematory.

Eyewitness Reports Albania Tangled in Political Crisis

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 26 (AP)—The untamed Balkan state of Albania is embroiled in a political and economic crisis, an eyewitness just returned from Tirana said today. Her people face a winter of starvation.

The cause is Albania's split with Yugoslav Premier Marshall Tito, who has been denounced by the Communist International Information bureau (Cominform). Albania's leaders are said to have decided definitely to go along with Russia, against Tito, and this would cut them off from all of Europe, except by sea. Her only land neighbors are Yugoslavia and hostile Greece.

The whole tiny country has been hidden behind a virtually impenetrable veil of police and military security for three years, with only reports by the government controlled Albanian telegraph agency coming through.

THE ACCOUNTS BY the eyewitness here, who cannot be named, agree closely with unofficial and unconfirmable rumors which have leaked through to Belgrade, and which have found some serious acceptance here. Numerous Yugoslavs who had, until the Cominform split, been technical and military advisers in Albania reported to their government when they came back that the seeds of a violent feud over the Cominform issue had been planted.

Albania's first action, reports say, was to arrest, try and shoot seven members of parliament—all on the same day—for defying Premier, Col. Gen. Enver Hoxha's pro-Cominform stand.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—The House un-American activities committee prepared today to hear from further witnesses; it put finishing touches to a promised public report on activities of an alleged Soviet atomic spy ring.

Singapore Police Seize Smuggler, $500,000 Loot

SINGAPORE, Sept. 26 (P)—Customs officers said they seized $500,000 in smuggled gold and diamonds today from a Dutch flight engineer on a plane which arrived at Kallang airdrome from Java.

Police said they believed the haul smashed a large scale ring formed to smuggle gold and diamonds from Java to Singapore.

The authorities said the smuggler tried to bribe the customs officers with an offer of $20,000. A spokesman for the airline identified him as a Swiss national who had long been an Australian resident before he was based at Batavia by the airline.

Rita Johnson Improves; Condition Still Serious

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 26 (P)—Film actress Rita Johnson, who was unconscious for many days after suffering a head injury in her apartment the past Labor Day, was reported improved today although still in a serious condition.

The blond actress' nurse said she smiled and now recognizes her mother. "However she has said nothing about her accident and we do not want to tax her by trying to get her to talk," the nurse said.

Miss Johnson underwent brain surgery Sept. 9. It still hasn't been determined how she was injured. Police have said they believe she was hurt by the fall of a heavy hair dryer.

In giving, a man receives more than he gives, and the more is in proportion to the worth of the thing given.
— George MacDonald.

Looking Into the Future

BUSINESS leaders are glancing with anxiety into the future. They are concerned with the attacks that will be made on the free enterprise system when the postwar boom wears thin and large scale unemployment becomes a threat or an actuality.

The Communists, of course, are waiting and praying for the opportunity. But the greater danger lies in the number of sober, sincere citizens who may be persuaded that since the "money changers" have failed to iron out the economic cycles, only government can manage the economy smoothly.

Some concern on this score is justified.
The successive Roosevelt administrations developed a calculated campaign to convince the public that business was predatory and only the politicians had the general welfare truly at heart.

Dean Howard R. Bowen, of the University of Illinois, has warned both business and organized labor that they should give thought to creating an atmosphere favorable to the preservation of individual enterprise. He says they must take the initiative and impose voluntary controls upon themselves in time of economic stress. He means that no groups should, in a sea of adversity, seek to create for themselves little islands of prosperity without regard to the overall effects of their actions.

There is every indication that many of the more spectacular and potent union leaders are devoted to a program of socialization on the British model. Therefore it appears to us that the organized defense of free enterprise will fall largely on business. Whatever is done will depend, in essence, upon informing every individual of the alternatives.

The defense will be at a disadvantage.
Those who seek to ride into power on a wave of popular discontent will not be scrupulous, either in the character of their attack or the extent of their promises.

With the issue, if it comes, resting on the good sense of the average voter, it would be well to review some of the record of political control of the economy, which goes under the beguiling name of "national planning."

Some of the insane antics of this "planning" were cited by A. B. Genung, of the New York State College of Agriculture. The last time the nation ran into a storm, and the hue and cry about "over-production" arose, Mr. Genung recalls:

"Politicians all over the world burned stocks of sugar, chopped down rubber plantations, sealed up copper mines, plowed under growing wheat and cotton, dumped coffee into the ocean, destroyed tobacco and sugar cane, slaughtered and turned into fertilizer millions of pigs and brood sows, forbade for a time the production of nitrates and silk, shut oil wells at bayonet point, limited hours and labor and reduced the output of coal, dairy products and many products of industry.

"In such fashion was wealth destroyed as the 'way to raise the level of national well-being.'"

Free enterprise is not a perfect and painless system, but those who exchange it for any other will rue the day bitterly.

Conservation Pays Again

Americans are beginning to find out that long-range conservation can also mean real short-range economies. One indication is that "re-refining"—cleaning up old lubricating oil so it can be used again—is booming.
Railroads, truck-bus-cab operators, manufacturers and utilities have begun to appreciate the savings that can be made. One cab company figures re-refined oil costs 10 cents a gallon as against 73 cents a gallon for new.
Re-refining, of course, affects only one strategic material, and it has only a small start in its field (500 million gallons of lubricating oil are used annually), but it does plainly demonstrate that conservation can be made to pay off now, as well as in the future.

Hats Off to Pilots

Work Alone Can't Replace Education, He Says

Only Makes Labor Easier

To the Editor: In reply to L. S. C.
("Less Education — More Hard Work,"
Readers Say, Sept. 22):

L. S. C. claims if we build schools now they will fall apart in ten or 20 years.
The schools they build today will stand longer than that little red schoolhouse L. S. C. went to, and some of them have been standing for 150 years or better.

L. S. C. does not know that any school must be built to the drawings and specifications of a licensed architect. This is some of the education condemned by Mr.
L. S. C.

I work at the building trade myself,
and just recently worked on a public school. Now I know that building will stand to see my grandchildren and their grandchildren, too.

Now I am not condemning hard work,
but quite often a little education (which L. S. C. condemns) makes it a little easier.

That is true in my case again (in the building trade), where the young boys with today's education have the advantage over the older fellows with the grade-school education. There is also plenty of "hard work" in the building game. Education is what makes some hard work easier.

I am sure L. S. C. agrees that farming of today with its modern equipment is a lot easier than farming of his dad's and grandad's time. All that modern equipment he can jhank ingenuity for, the greater part of which came from education.

No, I would not say "Less Education —
More Hard Work," but "More Education for Less Hard Work."
Pottstown RD 3 K. W. M.

A Student's View

To the Editor: In answer to L. S. C.
("Less Education — More Hard Work,"
Readers Say, Sept. 22):

Education is a very fine thing. Just because L. S. C. thought he got along all right doesn't mean it is anything to brag about.

Where would our government be today
if there wasn't any education? Without excellent education we would not have doctors, lawyers, ministers, etc. By having an education, people are more civilized. If there would not be any education we would still live in caves and be savages.

As for football, band and singing clubs,
I think it is one of the finest things in America. By taking part in any one of these fields, it helps to build a better America, teaching us how to live, play
and work together.

So a big bouquet of roses for the people who want to see education progress, and onions to people who think getting an education isn't hard work.

Go Forward With Education

To the Editor: L. S. C. ("Less Education — More Hard Work," Readers Say, Sept. 22) and his letter about how well
he made out with a grade school education and why we should not build any more schools give me a pain in the neck.

I know his kind. They pay $1 a pound for meat; $12,000 for a new home or $2000
for a car, and just grumble a bit about it.
But let somebody suggest a new school or some building for the borough or a non-profit group, and wow! All of a sudden they call a buyer's strike. Sure, they say, now is a good time to buy what I need, but no, no, let's not spend money on things for other people, like our children.

And when prices come down they will say, "We cannot build a school now because incomes are too low and taxes do not bring enough."

"Our system," which L. S. C. seems to be worrying about cannot get along by marking time. Would he send his son to war with a Civil War rifle? Should we send our children into the battle of life with Civil War educations?

Football Expenses Run High

To the Editor: Until my husband explained to me about the actual cost of equipment for a football team, I also felt like Disgusted Parent ("They Pay—Then No Free Tickets," Readers Say, Sept. 23).

As I only ever stopped to count the cost of the boys who were actually playing at one time (there were no substitutes in my game), therefore my expenses were cheap.

But when I had to multiply 33 times
one boy's cost, that was a different story.
As there are about 50 boys more or less out for football, and after seeing these boys in practice, I know they are all trying to the best of their ability to make good. Therefore let's not be too critical when a mistake is made.

So, good luck to a swell bunch of boys and a good coach, Mr. Meyers, and his assistants.

INTERPRETIVE United Nations' Crisis Hinges on Berlin Issue

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
(Of The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP) — Decision of the Western powers to throw the Soviet blockade of Berlin into the Security council confronts the United Nations with precisely the kind of issue its founders feared might wreck the organization.

At the San Francisco conference where the U. N. charter was written little more than three years ago, experts on the structure of the peace league always agreed that its major weakness would be its inability in the last analysis to deal effectively with a major dispute among the world's great nations.

They spoke most hopefully of its capacity for settling relatively small threats to the peace and preventing them from growing into major wars.

The United Nations now, therefore, judged by the estimates its creators made of it when it was designed, is coming face to face with the severest test it could have of its ability to survive as a peace keeping organization.

AMERICAN OFFICIALS who, like the British and French, long have been reluctant to let the row with Russia reach this point, now say that Soviet policy on Berlin finally has left them no choice.

Russia's demand for control of the airlift is regarded here as clear evidence of a deliberate policy of the Kremlin to use force in trying to compel the Western powers to leave the German capital—a policy which gravely risks the dangers of war.

Having finally decided that they had no alternative except to appeal to the Security council for action, the Western powers are setting in motion a chain of events which eventually could lead to consideration by the Security council of the use of force against Russia.

The Russians could veto such a decision. Yet two years or more ago, while James F. Byrnes was still secretary of state, the American government proclaimed a policy of its own that "veto or no veto" it would live up to its commitments under the charter and take any necessary steps to carry them out.

Seen in this light, a majority vote of the Security council to apply political or economic sanctions or take other forceful measures against the Soviet Union because of the Berlin blockade might be carried out by the United States and other countries that would co-operate with it, even though the council could not technically order such action because Russia could veto it.

TWO CHAPTERS of the U. N. charter apply to the present situation. Under Chapter 6 the Security council and all the U. N. members are committed to exhaust every resource for a peaceful solution of any international dispute. If this involves formal action by the council then the parties to the dispute—in this case the U. S., Russia, France and Britain—must forego their veto. That means there can be no veto on peaceful settlement proposals.

If and when efforts at peaceful settlement fail, the dispute may be brought under Chapter 7 where the Security council has the responsibility to determine "the existence of any threat to the peace, breach of the peace, or act of aggression," and decide what ought to be done about it.

What officials here consider entirely possible, and some believe highly probable, is that the Russians may walk out of the United Nations, breaking off all their connections with it and repudiating their membership in it—in the preliminary encounters over the Berlin crisis show as expected that they are badly out-voted.

Notes of a Cub Reporter

HERE IT IS September, and what am I doing, Dorothy, while you're breathing fresh air, sleeping peacefully every night and feeling ever so sorry for those pitiful shnooks back home who are slaving away? I'll tell you what I'm doing, Dorothy, in a word—working! Yes, working!

And if you don't think that composing a guest column is work, Dorothy, well—try it some time. I'm pounding my beat, from my Cub Room nook to Lindy's in quest of jottings for your pencil. Just as I did, Dorothy, on my
junker, not so long ago,
to South America, or as we seasoned travelers
call it, S. A.

As I promised, I came back with col-umnist's notes. Are you ready, amigo?
Ho-Ki! I don't believe I've ever seen as many Irishmen collected in one place outside of County Cork as I saw and met in little town called Rosario, Argentina.
Ninety percent of the population was of Celtic origin and most of them responded to the names of Higgins, Cavanaugh, Farrell and Kelly.

The patrons of our boites and bistros up here may be amused to know that at the Embassy Club in Lima, Peru, all the cutlery in the service is solid silver and the percentage of theft of the stuff is exactly zero. As a matter of fact, the Embassy doesn't care if it is shoplifted.

A well-groomed city is Buenos Aires,
a city, it seems to me, which approximates New York more than any other below the Rio Grande.

STIMULATING trip. Yes, it was,
Dorothy, but not nearly as stimulating as returning to Papa Knickerbocker and to my old haunts in the Fifties. Needless to say, life goes on gaily and coolly in the Cub Room at the Stork and, except for an occasional switch in cast of characters, the only change I can detect in Sherm's place, is that table 80—that's the one with Coca-Cola bottles in the back, will be vacant until you re-occupy it.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
RANDALL G., 35, is office manager of a Chicago firm.

"Dr. Crane, it seems to me that the salesmen of this organization are too much money," he protested during my evening class in Business Psychology.

For example, some of our salesmen are drawing down $100 per week, in addition to their expense money, while I am in an executive position after ten years with the firm, but I don't get that much myself.

"Don't you think the workers within the office should be paid on the same basis as those on the road?"

"LET ME CITE a real situation which has been duplicated thousands of times in American business. A friend of mine used to be one of the three road salesmen maintained by a manufacturing concern of plumbing supplies.

He and the other two salesmen made good salaries, never running lower than $6000 per year and often approaching double that figure.

But some of the factory officials in the home office were jealous of these salaries.

Two of the salesmen were not college men at all, so some of the university graduates in the home office were doubly indignant.

One of the salesmen died suddenly of a heart attack. Under the guise of rearranging the territory, the other two men were cut down. Within a year, both of them had quit.

Three men from the office force attempted to take their places. And what happened?

Well, much of the old business began to show on the books of rival manufacturing concerns.

Before these three young men could get on to the ropes, their plant curtailed production radically, owing to lack of orders.

Meanwhile, several of those college men who had grumbled about the sales-men's high salaries were laid off.

That company eventually went bankrupt, as have many others which failed to realize the true worth of good advertising and salesmanship.

With all due respect to the brilliant genius of Marconi and Edison, as well as the hundreds of other great inventors, it was the salesmen of live wire who placed radio and electric fixtures, vacuum cleaners, toasters, bath tubs and other modern conveniences into actual use in American homes.

Our high standard of living is thus a tribute to the go-getter type of sales-manship so typically American.

No history of civilization's progress should be complete without at least one chapter devoted to the effect of advertising and selling on mankind's advance.

Dog Left Alone in Flat Leaps 40 Feet to Escape

BRIDLINGTON, Eng., Sept. 26 (AP) — Eleven-month-old Sammy, a wire-haired terrier, jumped out of a fourth floor window today and ended up in the dog hospital, because he couldn't bear to be left alone.

His owners, Dr. and Mrs. Martin Linell, thought Sammy should stay at home and closed the door of their flat on him. As their car was about to start from the curb they heard a thud on the roof and Sammy rolled to the pavement. He had jumped from a window 40 feet above the street.

Dr. Linell set a broken leg and treated the dog for shock.

MODERN VERSION

Moonlight and baseball? You bet they go together. Nearly half of Philadelphia's big league games of the current season have been played under the lights.

That's one of the great changes that have come with the development of electricity. Doing the family wash nowadays is much like tuning a radio; cooking dinner can be largely a matter of setting a clock. Hardly an hour but what electricity lightens tasks, brightens living in this changed world of 1948.

Families in the Philadelphia area now are using more than twice the electricity they formerly did. All these new responsibilities make it more important than ever that electricity be ready to flash into action with the snap of a switch—anywhere, anytime.

Your neighbors who operate Philadelphia Electric have taken care of that. Their research and continuous experiments have done much to make Electricity the always dependable servant. Just as their efforts now are helping to keep electricity the lowest-priced necessity on the family budget.

Earlville Couple, Injured in Accident, Sue Boyertown Driver for $54,000 Damages

Sallie M. and Ammon H. Drumheller, Earlville, filed suit in the Berks County court against John G. Boyertown, claiming $54,000 damages for injuries received when they were struck by the defendant's automobile while walking on the highway near Earlville on December 7, 1946.

Mrs. Drumheller suffered a fracture of the right leg which necessitated its amputation and also fractures of the left leg, which, the complaint says, is permanently disabled. The husband suffered lacerations and abrasions of the legs, arms and elbows.

The plaintiffs were walking along the highway at 9:45 p. m. with several other persons and reached a point just east of the Earlville hotel and post office when they were struck. The complaint charges negligence on the part of the defendant in failing to have his automobile under control and failing to stop within easy range of his headlights.

THE COMPLAINT says Mrs. Drumheller is confined to her bed and wheelchair and is unable to perform any services for which she can receive compensation. She was earning $4.50 a week doing laundry work for other people and $90 a year for husking corn.

Mrs. Drumheller asks $32,562.55 damages, including loss of clothing; $7,500 loss of earning power; $15,000 for loss of right leg and impairment of left leg, and $10,000 for pain and suffering.

Her husband asks $21,964.68 damages, including $6.96 for damages to clothing; $500 for pain and suffering; $15,000 for loss of his services; $322 for nursing services; $1,241.22 hospital bill; $894.80 for dentist and doctor bills, and $2,000 for medical and surgical equipment. Body, Muth and Rhoda, attorneys, represent the Drumhellers.

Traffic Toll Strikes Home

Daily traffic deaths probably have been just so many names in the newspapers to a Los Angeles resident named Abiliana, just as they are to millions of other Americans. But the full impact of those fatalities strikes deep into Abiliana's heart as he bends helplessly and distraughtly over the crushed body of his 8-year-old son, Pahl. The boy was struck and killed by an automobile while he was riding a bicycle near his home.

'New Paths' Opened In Cancer Research

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 26 (AP)—A Yale surgeon tonight said that detailed study of cells—never before possible—has opened new paths in cancer research and the "prospect of further discoveries is excellent."

Dr. Samuel C. Harvey said breakdown of the body's fundamental unit was brought about by the use of recently developed instruments, the electron microscope and the ultra-centrifuge—a high-whirling device.

The new information "may well point the way to an understanding of the difference between cells that have gotten out of hand and those which are behaving themselves," declared Dr. Harvey.

The Yale professor expressed his doubt that even if unlimited funds for research were available cancer could be conquered within a matter of mere months or years. He compared the present situation with that of the days before bacteria were found to be the specific causative agents in infections.

Air Force Testing 'Super' Helicopter

Top speed of the XH-15 is reported at "over 100 miles." It is designed for use as an observation plane, photographic work, serial inspection of power and communication lines in hard-to-reach areas or as a personnel carrier in liaison service.

Richard M. Uba Takes Collegeville Bride In Impressive Catholic Church Ceremony

In St. Eleanor's Catholic church, Collegeville, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, Miss Lucy C. Wojciechowski and Mr. Richard M. Uba were united in marriage by the Rev. John F. O'Neill. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Wojciechowski, Collegeville RD 1, while the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Uba, Royersford RD 1.

Palms and white dahlias were profusely used to decorate the church with a white carpet down the center aisle and white ribbons marking off the pews. Preceding the nuptials a recital was presented by Miss Margaret Collins, organist, and Mrs. Alice Barrett, soloist.

Highlighting the white satin bridegroom was a sweetheart neckline and lace insertion in the front and back of the tightly fitted bodice. The sleeves were long and pointed at the hands while the extremely full skirt swept out in the back to form a long court train.

THE CHAPEL LENGTH veil of illusion net fell from a crown of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white roses and gardenias with showers of white satin streamers intertwined with lilies of the valley. Her only jewelry was a gold cross with diamond chip, a gift of the bridegroom. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Lorraine Uba, a sister of the bridegroom, attended as maid of honor in a white tulle gown with sweetheart neckline and puffed sleeves accentuating the wasp waist bodice. The full hooped skirt was picked up in several places by dainty bows to reveal pretty lace edged ruffles on the petticoat beneath. She carried a Colonial bouquet of red roses and gardenias.

Bridesmaid was Miss Lorraine Uba, sister of the bridegroom, who appeared in a white tulle gown of identical style to that worn by Miss Uba.

Mr. Thad. Uba, brother of the bridegroom, performed the duties of the best man, and Mr. Watson Wioncek was the usher.

THE MOTHER of the bride and the mother of the bridegroom appeared in dresses of black crepe with black accessories and corsages of gardenias.

Later a reception was enjoyed at the Linnet Fire company with guests attending from Trenton, N. J.; Philadelphia, Norristown, Pottstown, Stowe, Conshohocken, Royersford, Collegeville, Douglassville, Phoenixville and Schwenksville.

The couple left for a honeymoon in New York and Washington, D. C. with the bride traveling in a navy blue suit with white blouse and gloves and navy accessories. She wore a gardenia corsage. Upon their return the couple will reside with the bride's parents.

The bride attended Collegeville-Trappe High school and is employed at the Collegeville Flag factory. The bridegroom is a graduate of Conshohocken High school, served with the Army engineers for two and a half years and is now employed as a carpenter in Jeffersonville.

Beautiful in every detail was the wedding Saturday of Miss Joy E. Christman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Christman, Pottstown RD 4, and Mr. David F. Kienle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Kienle, 608 King street, in St. Aloysius Catholic church.

Presiding at the console of the organ was Mrs. Charles McCarthy, while the vocal numbers were presented by Mrs. Ella McDevitt. The double ring ceremony, which was performed at 10 o'clock in the morning by the Rev. George Hiller, was witnessed by immediate friends and relatives. Mixed cut flowers were in the altar vases.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was charming in a gown of white marquisette featuring a rounded neckline, outlined with ruffles. The rows of ruffles swept up the back of the very full skirt to form a bustle and dipped again in the center. With the cap sleeves she wore long jersey mitts.

Her finger-tip veil of net fell from a beaded tiara and she carried an old fashioned bouquet of white roses.

ACTING AS MAID of honor was Mary Jane Kienle in a yellow gown of marquisette designed with illusion neckline and snugly fitting bodice attached to a very full skirt. The tiny wasp waist was banded with a deep sloping peplum. She wore long matching mitts of marquisette and a headpiece of yellow flowers with black veil of marquisette. Her old fashioned bouquet was of mixed flowers.

Attending as bridesmaids were Mrs. Dorothy Himes, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Marguerite Undercuffler. Both were attired in marquisette gowns of style similar to that worn by the maid of honor, Mrs. Himes appearing in pink and Mrs. Undercuffler in blue.

Performing the duties of best man was Mr. Charles Kienle, brother of the bridegroom, while serving as ushers were the Messrs. Robert Christman, brother of the bride, and John Kienle, another brother of the bridegroom.

MRS. CHRISTMAN, mother of the bride, appeared in a floral print dress of brown with matching accessories, while the mother of the bridegroom chose a gown of wine color with harmonizing accessories.

LET YOUR THOUGHTFULNESS LIVE BEYOND YOUR LIFETIME

A considerate, truly loving husband would never knowingly burden his wife with a responsibility for which she is not equipped. Neither would he do it to a good friend. Yet, in naming wife or friend as executor, a man imposes duties for which the average person has insufficient time, experience and ability. How much wiser and more considerate to name a corporate executor or trustee whose business is the efficient settling of estates and administration of trusts! Our compensation and the type of investments we can make are both governed by law. You and your wife or attorney are invited to discuss the matter with us.

Down on the Farm

PEAS AND CUES

Peas are like show business. You've got to watch your cues. And timing is what counts!

We've been farming for sixty years down here at Seabrook Farms. We used to raise eating peas for market. Now we're concentrating on freezing peas.

And they aren't always exactly the same thing. A good freezing pea has got to be a good eating pea but vice versa won't always work out. Peas, in case you didn't know it, take to hot weather like a cat to water. So you have to be out there with the first Spring robin practically, getting the seeds into the ground. Also, a pea remains a Sweet Young Thing only a little while (Ah, Youth, Youth, it sure gets away from you!).

That sweet, sweet hour is a fleeting thing and that's why, folks, you can look for us out under the June Moon. Don't get ideas, friends. We'll be harvesting our peas. Moreover, if you should be passing this way, you'll find out that we give the Man-in-the-Moon considerable help with the lighting arrangements. Our machines are equipped with floodlights. These take away somewhat from the Romance, but are mighty helpful in speeding up the harvest.

Our peas get such a rush from field to freezer you can almost feel the wind in your hair. We've got this rush down to less than two hours now.

No fooling, in case you want to find out if it's all worth while from your point of view, here's a suggestion: Get yourself a package of our Seabrook Farms Quick-Frozen Extra Fancy Peas (a special this week) and see if you don't taste June and Moon, Sweet Youth and the Good Green Fields all rolled up into one mighty tasty little morsel.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

See The Little Cards JUST TAKE a good look at all smaller cards of the suit—in your hand and in the dummy—if you want to know whether your partner's play is an "encouraging" or "discouraging" card. If you see all lower cards, you know that he has used his lowest of the suit. In that event, you know his card—either as a follow-suit or as a discard—is a discourager. Only if you can read his card as probably higher than his lowest he holds, can you consider it a lead-in. And, of course, when his card is following the 7 and so of course repeated the suit.

Poor West was under the fallacy which misguides many ordinary players. Lots of them will tell you that a 7 or higher is encouraging, a 6 or lower discouraging. But West could see all cards lower than the 7, including South's 4, so it was discouraging. In like fashion even a 3 or 4 can be encouraging, if indications are your partner has a 2.

Tomorrow's Problem

What measures will aid any player to appraise the opening bid merits of a hand like North's on this deal?

Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable.

West North East South
Pass 2 2 4
3 4 4 4

It was a good thing West did not take further action, such as bidding 5-Clubs that could be set or doubling the 4-Spades, and just as good that East did not double when he considered his partner's action as intended for a forcing bid. A new West as none too good on defense, and so feared

Norco Wins Easily, 32-0; Falcons Lose to West Reading

VETERAN TEAM TOPS COLONELS IN FIRST GAME

Orandosh Scores 8 Points, Passes for Touchdown; 2d Half Rally Clinches Tilt

Held to one touchdown in the first half, North Coventry High's Wildcats came to life in the third and fourth periods and scored four more six-pointers to crush Collegeville High, 32-0, in the season's opener for both schools at Collegeville Saturday.

A throng of approximately 800 fans watched the visiting Wildcats claw the Collegeville line to shreds in scoring two touchdowns in each of the last two quarters.

The first six-point came on a 25-yard pass from Jim Orandosh to Ralph Reish. Reish took the aerial on the Collegeville 10-yard stripe and standing up, The Wildcats started their touchdown drive on the Collegeville 45-yard line after a 20-yard runback of a punt by Orandosh.

THE COLONELS managed to match the Wildcats throughout the second period, but the visitors came to life in the third period to take a commanding 20-0 lead.

After an exchange of punts early in the third quarter, the Wildcats moved for a first down on the Collegeville 40. Perfect deception in the Norco backfield then enabled Francis Wampler to circle right end and go 45 yards for another touchdown. Orandosh's placement was good and Norco led, 14-0.

A few minutes later, Collegeville drove to their own 40-yard line after the kickoff. Quarterback Bill Bauman was hit hard by three Norco tacklers as he was trying to sweep left end and the ball flew high into the air. Don Rupert was on the alert, caught the ball and raced 40 yards to make it 20-0.

Three straight first downs early in the fourth quarter found Norco knocking on the touchdown door again. The drive carried to the Collegeville four-yard stripe where Orandosh bucked his way over for another six-point.

LATER IN THE same period, Coach Bill Paolantonio inserted his reserves and Collegeville was still held to hold the Wildcats. With "Fischer" Beidler pouncing the attack, the visitors moved to the 12-yard line but the drive was halted when a Collegeville player intercepted a pass on the four. A little later, Norco intercepted a Collegeville pass and took possession of the ball on the 30-yard line. A first down put the ball on the 20 and Don Batdorf scored from there on an end run. Buckwalter's attempted placement was no good.

The victory was the eighth for the Paolantonio grid machine since the Norco mentor took over at the Chester county school the past year. The Wildcats have lost only twice under their new coach.

The Wildcats' next game will be with Marlborough High under the arc lights on Pottstown's Franklin Field Friday night. Friday's game will mark the first time a Norco team has played a night game at home.

Royersford Defeats Boyertown Foe, 18-6

Taking advantage of all the breaks, Royersford High's Eagles inaugurated the 1948 football season with a decisive 18-6 triumph over Boyertown's Bears before approximately 1000 fans at Royersford Saturday.

Sherwood "Yut" Schnell, with a pair of six-pointers, and Hub Carl figured in the scoring column for the Eagles, while Paul Ludy came through with the lone TD for the invaders to avert a shutout. No extra points were registered by either eleven.

The Royersford lads evidenced superiority soon after the kick off and launched an offensive from their own 20-yard line which led to the first score. Boyertown's Ludy received the opening kick-off from Schnell and was downed on his 40-yard line. Failing to gain after three plays, Henry Johnson, Bear fullback, booted out of bounds to the Royersford 20-yard marker. Schnell, Keiter and Grater advanced the ball successively to the Boyertown 17-yard line. After two more plays, Keiter sent a pass to Carl, who scored from the ten-yard line. The try for the extra point, via placement, was short.

SCHNELL SCORED from the three-yard line in the third period, after an advance from the 44-yard line. A pass, Chuck to Grater, was good for 25 yards after which Schnell tore off ten more to put the ball on the ten-yard line. In three plays it was over the line.

Fumbling a Royersford punt late in the third period proved costly for Boyertown as the ball was recovered by a Royersford player on the Boyertown 15 yard line where it remained at the start of the fourth period. Four plays suited a first down with the ball resting on the two-yard line. Schnell then hit center for the final Royersford touchdown.

Boyertown came back later in the same period and advanced to a scoring position. Ludy scored by holding on to a pass as he stepped over into the end zone. Lineups:

Greenies Whip Wyomissing On Gridiron, 20-6
East Greenville spotted Wyomissing a touchdown in the first period and then came back to outclass the Sunsets, 20-6, before a throng estimated at 1000 persons on the Wyomissing field Saturday.

It was the second consecutive victory for the Greenies, who whipped Quakertown in the opener a week ago.

The Sunsets started out like a championship ball club, but once the Greenies started to move there was no doubt in the minds of the fans as to who would be the winner.

AFTER THE SUNSETS took a 6-0 lead in the opening stanza, the visitors capitalized on breaks to go ahead. A Wyomissing fumble in the second quarter on the home team's 30-yard line led to East Greenville's first score. Richie Ziegler, East Greenville fullback, clinched the drive from the 30 by crashing through center to score from the four.

Wyomissing stopped the East Greenville ground attack in the third quarter, but the visitors took to the air and Ziegler and Leon Pennypacker teaming to move the ball into scoring territory. Pennypacker then caught another Ziegler pass in the end zone for the score, giving the visitors a 13-6 lead.

Ziegler swept to end for the extra point for a 14-6 advantage.

East Greenville's third touchdown came in the final period, with Dick Bieler plunging over from the two with only ten seconds remaining in the game. Pennypacker's placement for the extra point was good.

Wyomissing's only touchdown was made by Joe Martin fighting his way over the goal line from the East Greenville three-yard stripe.

COWBOYS ADD EXTRA POINT FOR 7-6 WIN

Two West Pottsgrove Backfield Stars Injured; Hampton Scores for Locals

Fred Loser squirmed his way through a tight West Pottsgrove line and fell over the goal line for the all important extra point that gave West Reading a 7-6 decision over the Falcons Saturday afternoon at West Pottsgrove.

Loser's extra point followed a touchdown by Carl Schnellbach which tied the game at 6-6. It came in the closing minutes of the game and the Falcons didn't have enough time to threaten again.

The two teams appeared to be headed for a 0-0 deadlock as the fourth quarter got underway. The Falcons, however, came to life early in the last frame and marched to a touchdown to break the scoreless tie.

A COMBINED GROUND and aerial attack moved the Falcons deep into West Reading territory. Steve Sabo moved to the one-yard line for a first down and then Jack Hampton bulled his way over for the score. Joe Dor's attempted placement for the extra point was no good.

West Reading, determined to duplicate their 1947 victory over the Falcons, took West Pottsgrove's kickoff and marched right down the field for its only touchdown.

Quarterback Dave Schlegel returned the kickoff to his own 35. Dick Grab, Ammon Heckler, Ted Stout and Loser alternated with the ball lugging and moved to a first down on the Pottsgrove 10. Schnellbach bored his way to the three-yard stripe and then crashed over the goal line on the next play for the six-pointer.

THE FALCONS had several opportunities to score in the first half but penalties helped the West Reading aggregation to hold West Pottsgrove scoreless until the last period.

The victory evened West Reading's record at one win and one defeat. Copley handed the Cowboys a 7-6 setback a week ago. Saturday's game was the first of the year for West Pottsgrove.

The Falcons suffered two big losses when Joe Dor and Steve Sabo were taken to Memorial hospital. Dor suffered possible hip injuries and Sabo injured his knee. They will be out of action indefinitely.

Maria Assunta AC Routs Erlen by 13-6 As 800 Fans Watch

Chuck Wiley and Don Paolucci plowed their way to one touchdown advance yesterday afternoon to lead Maria Assunta to a 13-6 conquest of Erlen AC before 800 fans on the West Pottsgrove High field.

The victory was the first of the year for the Pottstomians, who dropped a 12-8 decision to the Venango Bears in the season's opener the past week.

Maria Assunta struck first, hitting paydirt early in the second period. The Pottstomians started their touchdown drive from their own 40-yard line after receiving an Erlen punt.

WITH WILEY, Paolucci and Paul Axsmith lugging the pigskin, Maria Assunta worked its way to the Erlen seven-yard line from where Wiley scored on a fake reverse. The Pottstomian fullback also added the extra point from placement.

MARIA ASSUNTA had a scoring opportunity in the first period, taking the opening kickoff and marching deep into enemy territory. The drive was halted on the two by a fumble which Erlen AC recovered.

The visitors came back strong in the third period pulling within one point of Maria Assunta when Don Campbell went off tackle, outran the Pottstomian 'secondary and went 57 yards for a touchdown. The attempted placement was blocked.

Maria Assunta clinched the game early in the fourth period with its second touchdown. The Pottstomian eleven covered 70-yards in 10 plays with Paolucci climaxing the drive by plunging over from the four-yard line. Wiley's kick was blocked and Pottstom led, 13-6.

In the closing minutes, the local gridders plowed to the Erlen one-yard line. A penalty pushed the Pottstomian team back to the six and the game ended before another play was started.

Braves Edge New York by 3-2, Clinch National League Crown

BOSTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—After a 34 years delay, the Boston Braves filled the National league championship shoes of George Stalling's famed "Miraclemen" today with their 87th win of the campaign, a 3-2 decision over the New York Giants.

The Tribesmen now are six games ahead of the second place St. Louis Cardinals but each have only five more games to play.

The happy 31,172 crowd that came for the kill saw it apparently wrapped up for starter Vern Bickford in the very first inning when Bob (Mr. Team) Elliott lashed his 22nd homer after Tommy Holmes and Al Dark had singled against right-hander Larry Jansen.

After that terrific send-off Vern Bickford, the Boston starter, kept the Giants blanked with only two hits until the eighth when the New Yorkers did all their scoring.

BICKFORD had turned in 22 consecutive scoreless innings until Les Mueller opened the eighth with a drive into left field. Sal Yvars followed with a single to center and Johnny McCarthy, batting for Buddy Kerr, scored Mueller with a safe drive into right.

Nels Potter then replaced Bickford and Yvars countered before the former could retire the Giants by forcing three of them to ground to the infield.

Then the canny Potter thrilled the nervous crowd by setting down Johnny Mize, Willard Marshall and Mueller in order in the ninth.

JANSEN SETTLED down after his wobbly start and handcuffed the Braves until he gave way to punch hitter Lonnie Frey with two on and none out in the eighth.

Until he faltered so suddenly, Bickford had given a scratch single to Sid Gordon in the fourth inning and a sharp one baser to Mize in the seventh.

SINCE THEIR LAST pennant success in 1914, the Braves have seen all seven of their league rivals win it at least once. But their current manager, Billy Southworth, has suffered no such championship famine.

This is his fourth championship team in seven years. The first three were with the St. Louis Cardinals, who won two World Series for him.

As a result, Southworth now ties Bill McKechnie's modern National league record of winning national league pennants for two different cities. McKechnie did it with the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1928 and the Cincinnati Reds in 1939-40.

Before 1900, however, Ed Hanlon directed five National league pennant winners in Baltimore and Brooklyn.

PHILLIES DROP 5-1 DECISION TO BROOKLYN NINE

Dodgers Score Early Off
Robin Roberts, Stay in Fight for Second Place

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26 (AP)—Gene Hermanski's two-run triple and Roy Campanella's ninth homer helped the Brooklyn Dodgers defeat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-1 today. The victory kept the Dodgers a step ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals in the close battle for second place as Boston clinched the National league pennant.

The Dodgers fell on rookie Robin Roberts early, scoring two runs in the first inning and another in the second. After Marv Rackley flied out to open the game, Jackie Robinson singled to third; LeeWee Reese was out and Reiser walked. Hermanski then smashed a three-bagger on the right field wall, scoring Robinson and Reiser.

Campanella's towering home run into the upper left-center field stands gave Ralph Branca a 3 to 0 working margin in the second.

CARDINALS DEFEAT CHICAGO CUBS, 5-2

CHICAGO, Sept. 26 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, counted out of contention when the Boston Braves clinched the National league flag today, didn't break their winning streak. They worked out a 5-2 conquest of the Chicago Cubs behind the four-hit hurling of Al Brazie.

The Cards won despite the sensational play of Hank Borowy and Hank Borowy in the fourth inning. He pitched eight and two-thirds innings of hitless ball after Bob Rush was chased in the opening innings.

Hammer then pitched no-hit ball through the eighth and Borowy operated perfectly in the ninth. Hammer fanned seven Cards.

It was a series of Cub misplays in the seventh that let the Cards nick Hammer for their final, two runs. Errors by Roy Sallee and Ed Waitkus behind him handed to Brazie and Chick Diering did the damage.

Pirates Sweep Doubleheader From Redlegs

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 26 (AP)—The fourth place Pirates closed out their 1948 home season on a happy note today as they swept a doubleheader from the Cincinnati Reds, 8 to 6, and 8 to 5. The nightcap was called in the eighth inning because of darkness.

The crowd of 26,483 set a new home attendance record for Forbes field. The season total was 1,517,490, a figure 233,888 over the previous record set the past season.

The double win assured the Pirates of at least a tie for fourth place and kept them in the running for second and third place money. They pulled within a half-game of the third-place St. Louis Cardinals and within one game of second place Brooklyn.

RALPH KINER hit his 40th home run of the year in the first inning of the nightcap with Stan Rokjok on base. Kiner drove in half of the eight Pittsburgh runs.

Elmer Singleton, who relieved Ernie Bonham in the first inning, was the winner. Kent Peterson absorbed the loss—his 15th. He has won two.

The Pirates rallied for five runs in the eighth inning to capture the opener. Rip Sewell, 40-year-old veteran hurler, and the fifth of the six Bucco pitchers to see action in the game, got credit for his 13th win against four losses.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—With only 20 seconds to go, Dick Poillon kicked a 28-yard field goal today to give the Washington Redskins a 17-14 National league football victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Yankees Top Boston; Indians Take Lead In American League

DETROIT, Sept. 26 (AP)

—Blazing Bob Feller, pitching with his pre-war prowess, hurled the Cleveland Indians into sole possession of first place in the waning American league season today, defeating Hal Newhouser and the Detroit Tigers 4-1, before 57,888 fans, a Detroit record for the year.

Cleveland's victory, together with the Yankees' 6-2 triumph over Boston in New York, put the Tribe a full game in front of the Red Sox and Yankees, tied for second place. Each team now has only five games left to play. Cleveland and Boston's remaining contests are at home, while all those of the Yankees are on the road.

Feller's triumph in the rubber game of the three-game series was his sixth straight and his 18th of the season. He has lost 14. Bob allowed only five hits, the third straight game in which he has allowed five or fewer safeties.

RELYING MAINLY upon a wicked-breaking curve ball, and using his feared fast one only in spots, Feller turned back nine Tigers on strikes to run his season's total to 161 strikeouts. He had remarkable control, walking nobody for the first time this season.

Newhouser also pitched a stout game, but it was his hard luck to run up against a club which is playing inspired baseball, fighting every step of the way and taking advantage of every break. In addition, he was facing the pitcher who right at this moment is the greatest in baseball.

Hall was touched for nine of Cleveland's ten hits in the eight innings he worked. He fanned five and walked two. The sterling left-hander, seeking his 20th victory, was charged with his 12th loss.

Fonder Captures Sweepstakes For 9th Straight Sanatoga Victory

George Fonder is still king of the midget auto drivers at Sanatoga. Fonder, the Lansdale ace, stretched his winning streak at the local speed plant to nine consecutive feature races yesterday after-noon as he piloted Ken Hickey's Offenhauser to an impressive victory in the 50-lap Montgomery-Berks sweepstakes. A throng of 14,000 fans was on hand to watch Fonder outclass a field of 14 AAA drivers.

The race was re-started on the eighth lap after Tommy Merriken and Charlie Breslin spun out on the seventh lap and blocked traffic on the macadam oval. The race was started Indian style and Fonder wasted little time in getting up front.

Because of the re-start, there was no official time. Fonder finished well ahead of his teammate, Shorty McAndrews, who edged Carl Miller for third place.

Art Gottier finished fourth and Charlie Musselman crossed the line in fifth place. Summary:

First qualifying heat, 10-laps—Won by Goldier, second, McAndrews; third, Saunders. Time—2:30.25.
Second qualifying heat, 10-laps—Won by Fonder; second, Marshman; third, Rambo. Time—2:30.14.
Third qualifying heat, 10-laps—Won by Favinger; second, Miller; third, Compton. Time—2:37.02.
Semi-final, 12-laps—Won by Breslin; second, Merriken; third, Musselman. Time—2:40.01.
Consolation race, 12-laps—Won by Smith; second, Henry; third, Watts. Time—3:00.89.
Montgomery-Berks sweepstakes, 50-laps—Won by Fonder; second, McAndrews; third, Miller. No time.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26

(AP)—Lefty Tommy Byrne overcame one of his chronic attacks of wildness and pulled the New York Yankees up even with Boston in the tight American league race today with a five-hit 6-2 victory over the Red Sox before 69,750 with only 5 games to play.

For 30 pitches in a frantic fourth inning, Byrne sputtered and staggered but he righted himself to notch his sixth straight win and eighth of the year—a body blow to the Sox's pennant hopes.

The Yanks held a 4-0 lead and the 28-year-old southpaw from Wake Forest, N. C., had a no-hitter going for him when Ted Williams opened the fourth with the first hit. Ted's single, the first of three ground balls, hit off Byrne, all day, skidded through the legs of shortstop Paul Rizzuto. Phil was playing a deep second base, his normal position in the Yankees' Williams shift.

THAT APPEARED to bother Byrne for he walked Vern Stephens on four straight balls and then hit Bobby Doerr on the left leg with a pitched ball. The bases were loaded and nobody out.

Still sticking to the high hard one that the Sox popped up all day, Byrne got Wally Moses on a third called strike.

When Byrne got Billy Goodman to loft to Johnny Lindell he was on his way out of the woods. Then he lost his way, walking Birdie Tebbets on four straight tosses to force in a run. Some 69,755 ulcer cases were born as he worked the count to 3-2 on pinch hitter Billy Hitchcock, watched him foul another and retired him on a loft to reliable Tommy Henrich.

These three lads can all sing as well as play musical instruments and they are really worth seeing and hearing.

A special menu will be prepared for your party, if you like, and you'll find the food appealing and tasty at all times here.

Exton Lodge serves luncheons and dinners regularly, seven-days of the week. Take your family there for Sunday dinner if you want to give them a real treat.

Electric Furnace-Man Is Today's Answer To Problems of Hot Air Heat in Homes

It's time to consider your heating problem, folks, and that means a visit to B. Shaffer Sturges, Pottstown plumbing and heating contractor, who'll be glad to discuss the merits of installing an Electric Furnace-Man automatic anthracite burner.

From the same source that heats the home you'll get abundant economical year round hot water supply.

The Electric Furnace-Man makes your present heating plant automatic and insures the utmost in heating comfort and convenience. It burns clean, dependable anthracite, in the low cost smaller sizes, automatically fed from the hopper to the bottom of the fire pot (which replaces the grate), much or little, just as needed—not intermittently—but to produce continuous fire in exact proportion to your requirements, whatever the outside temperature may be, set the thermostat at the temperature desired.

The E. F.-M. cuts fuel bills. So economical it earns as it burns and actually pays for itself. Full heating value from every pound of coal—no waste—nothing lost up the chimney.

As the Fall social season approaches, horse show parties, wedding dinners and the like, many people sensibly are finding it more convenient to have them at the Mansion House hotel in West Chester, rather than in their own home.

It takes a lot of preparation and expensive catering to get up a big dinner party.

Much easier to Phone West Chester 2600 and make arrangements with the management for a flat charge per plate and tell them how many guests you will have.

They'll arrange a menu to suit you, furnish music and flowers if you like, and you have the facilities

Mob Rides Workers Of Wallace Party Out of Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 26 (AP)—Five workers for Henry Wallace's Progressive party reported tonight they were dragged from their headquarters here, slapped and beaten and dumped at Grovetown, a small place outside the city.

They told police that between 40 and 50 men in a dozen automobiles descended upon their headquarters in a private home late today, kicked in a window and door and rode them out of the city.

One of the five, Forbes Hill, 23, displayed a blackened eye and bruises on the face he said he received. The other four were women, two of them said they were slapped and cuffed.

L. M. C. Watkins, to whom they had made their complaints, said he and other officers were investigating. He added that the investigators had no direct information as to who were responsible.

THE FIVE WERE members of a team of four men and four women sent from Atlanta party headquarters to obtain signatures here to get the Progressive party candidates on the Georgia election ballot.

In Atlanta, Palmer Weber, southern director of party activities, charged the workers were "dragged from a private home at pistol point in broad daylight."

Weber said he had reported "the outrage" to Gov. M. E. Thompson, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation.

Birds Set Chimney Afire; Phillies Go A'sweepin'

John Albert Smith, who lives between Shenkel and Cedarville, got a double helping of service from the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company Saturday afternoon.

His family was routed from the home by backed-up smoke from a chimney blaze. The Phillies sent their pumper and emergency truck over and with hose, ladders and rope extinguished the blaze.

An examination by Walter Groff, Phillies drive, disclosed that straw left by home-building birds had caused the blaze. The firemen turned chimney sweeps for a few minutes, and left the chimney in apple-pie order.

No damage was done except for a few burned bricks and some traces of smoke on the interior of the home.
